

Los Angeles, CA – JGM Records just announced the release of Down to This, the second EP on the label by JGM newcomer, Wilfax – Released in October 2021.

“Wilfax is a rare talent.” says Brooke Lambkin, (singer-songwriter at JGM Records). “He knows who he is and what’s best for a song, when to add, and when ‘less is more.’ His incredible versatility makes working with him effortless. Not only is he a stunning guitarist, but he is a gifted singer-songwriter as well. The honesty and sincerity he demonstrates as an artist is refreshing. When he plays a line, it rings true... it’s genuine.”

Down to This has some much-needed reminders in our current time like, be happy with less because you don’t always need more and unplug from social media long enough to build meaningful relationships. Sometimes you need to turn off the devices and engage with the people in front of you.

The songs, written by Wilfax founder William F. Beecher, features musical accompaniment by two of the music industry's finest musicians: Producer/Engineer Mitch Gonzalez (drums, bass, and keyboard) and Dave Flores (Upright Bass).

Down to This, Wilfax’s second release on the JGM label, is a seven song CD published by Rainy Day Stone Publishing.

“I couldn't have done it alone. I'm grateful for everyone who helped me record these songs. I hope people enjoy listening to the CD as much as I enjoyed recording it.”
